THE MOVING PICTURE WORLD goes to its subscribers in its present form as the result of a battle in the direction of which this journal has been party since its inception. It is a believer in trade unions. It is a believer in union contracts fairly made and entered upon with intention of fulfillment.

In the present instance the Moving Picture World has been caught in a feud that for some time has been growing in intensity between the printing pressmen's and feeders' local unions and their international organizations. The latter have declared forfeiture of the charters of the employing unions. The employing unions, in the belief that such action was necessary in the interest of assuring performance of contract, have sided with the international unions and declined to treat with outlawed locals. To give effect to their decision they locked out the pressmen.

Members of the local typographical union, warned by their international president not to enter upon an unauthorized strike resigned their situations. The printers ask for an increase of $1.40 a week and a decrease of four hours a week. The employers have conceded a raise of $1 a week and offered to submit other claims to arbitration. Up to this writing the printers have refused this proposal. It should also be stated the pressmen are demanding the same increase as that asked by the printers.

In its issue of October 4 the Moving Picture World stated it might not be published until the strike is settled. The World has made no effort to secure printing facilities elsewhere. If instead of sitting tight with its fellows in other trades, in an effort to secure a return to reason on the part of those who "print" these journals, the World had disregarded what it conceived to be the interests of its patrons it might also have been in a position to boast. "If other businesses in which the motion picture trade were able to publish there is reason to believe the World also could have done so. The World leaves to its New York City competitors such satisfaction as they may be able to accumulate under the present circumstances. In the meantime the World is making no apologies.

The Exhibitors-Mutual will continue only as a corporation dealing in pictures, buying, selling and distributing through Hallmark. The Clark & Cornelius Corporation will distribute via Hallmark-twelve Chaplin reissues of original Mutual comedies. The last named corporation will produce or purchase twelve specials during the ensuing year, also to be distributed through Hallmark. CONGRESSMEN HEAP ARGUMENTS AGAINST TAXATION.—The hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington on October 7 will be remembered as one of mixed disappointments and of hope that good may come of it. The chief argument was that the pictures are fully as ed- (over)
The committee presented a united front, but two of the witnesses got tangled up in their arguments. The big bright spot in the hearing was the testimony of Charles C. Pettijohn, chairman of the legislative committee of the N.A.M.P.I. Pressed for a suggestion as to what relief would be of the most help, and seeing full well there was little possibility of favorable action, he made the plea: "Except from taxation all admissions of 25 cents and less. That is the price the poor people, the people of moderate means, pay. They do not go to the movies now, though later statements by committee members perhaps discounted it. At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Pettijohn filed a brief. Apparently the committee is striving to devise some way of putting some of the burden on manufacturers of raw stock, for the business was discussed at length. Mr. Pettijohn suggested increasing the levies on certain other commodities such as cosmetics. The congressman insisted on suggestions as to an alternative tax.

NO IMMEDIATE REPEAL OF TAX.—S. I. Berman, executive secretary of the National Exhibitors' League, has returned from conferences with lawmakers at Washington with the information that there is no possibility of an immediate repeal of film rental and admission taxes. He was in conference with Congressman Kahn, who introduced the bill for the removal of the taxes, and with Chairman Fordney of the House Committee on Ways and Means, to which the Kahn bill has been referred. He also called on Dr. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, who looks upon the motion picture as a valuable aid to adult education and who believes it is entirely possible to use the education of the community to advantage. The congressman issued a statement saying that while it is not considered likely that relief will come in the next few months, the attitude of the members of the House to the present sad plight of the exhibitor is not due to any indifference on their part. Mr. Kahn said that there was some danger in offensive and machine-made propaganda. Congressmen, he said, easily recognize such propaganda and reject it. He believed that personal solicitation of prominent patrons is more effective than a machine-made propaganda with publicity headquarters.

K. Lincoln, was denied on October 9 by Judge Hough in the United States District Court, New York. "It will do no harm at all to the plaintiff to wait for an injunction until he tries his case," said the judge, "whereas an injunction at present would be very harmful to the defendants, who, if their affidavits are true, have a perfectly sound defense."

Jack White is the director.

UNION GREATS ADVICE FOR UNREST.— Boston clergymen realize the value of moving pictures as a useful social uplift but none of them has yet accepted the suggestion of Dr. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, Worcester, that they write scenarios. In an address before the International Conference of Women Physicians in New York Dr. Hall predicted they would cease opposing Sunday shows and write scenarios. The Rev. C. W. Holden, workers' pastor of Morgan Memorial; the Rev. James F. Norman, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church, and others said that if the different denominations of the church are making good use of the moving pictures.

Sheehan Construction Company, and $5,000 from Nicholas Lux, bondman for the construction company. The original contract was for $10,657.

DRAMATIC CRITIC ATTACKS CENSOR BOARD.— S. Morgan Powell, a dramatic critic of Montreal, has made a public attack on the Quebec Board of Motion Picture Censors for the manner in which it conducts a reconsideration of its own condemnations on the payment of a fee of $25. "Iting a Vitaphone feature, "The Bramble Bush," he claims that after appeal was made the picture was approved with a few minor changes. He asserts that the censors ruined "The Wolf" and wonders what they will do to David W. Griffith's masterpiece "Broken Blossoms." He suggests that the censorship question be taken to the law courts.

COHEN ANSWERS REMBUSCH.— In reply to a letter addressed to him by Frank Rembusch of Shelbyville, Ind., and printed in Moving Picture World, Sydney Smith, president of the National Motion Picture League, notes "with special interest what you say about the tropical heat at St. Louis which clouded the deliberations and impeded the action of the recent meeting at St. Louis." President Cohen goes on to suggest that Rembusch appoint a committee with himself as chairman to "get in touch with the United States weather bureau which, no doubt, will give you valuable suggestions" as to how to provide suitable weather for the next convention. He asks Mr. Rembusch to read the brief submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee and Representative Kalm.

CANADIAN LICENSE RESTRICTIONS.—The restriction which has been put on the issuance of theatre and projection licenses to citizens of the United States by the Ontario Government is severely criticized as "too stringent" in a statement issued by the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Protective Association of Ontario. A hard fight will be waged against it.

COUNCILMAN'S HOUSES PICKETED.—Pickets, presumably from the local Motion Picture Operators' Union, have been stationed recently in front of the Atlas and Stratford theatres in Indianapolis. These are controlled by Gustav C. Schmidt, city councilman. His alleged activity in supporting an anti-picketing ordinance which has not yet become a law is held responsible, although Schmidt was largely responsible for a wage increase of $5 a week recently allowed the operators. Several pickets were arrested on charges of vagrancy and blocking the sidewalks, but convictions failed to result.

JERSEYITES MAY VOTE.—Motion picture men are concentrating on the effort to secure legislation permitting Sunday exhibition of films in New Jersey. Reports received at the headquarters of the N.A.M.P.I. indicate that the Legislature at its next session will pass a measure enabling the various communities to vote on the question. It is common knowledge that a great majority of the people favor Sunday showing of pictures. Much of the opposition is said to have been due to misunderstanding of the bill.

NO FAMOUS PLAYERS-MOSS AGREEMENT.—The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has announced that the negotiations between the corporation and the B. S. Moss Theatrical Enterprises, which it was rumored had already been consummated, have been finally terminated without an agreement. It is now formally announced that the Moss Enterprises will continue as before under the direction of Mr. Moss.
The following comments on current productions are taken from reviews submitted by members of the staff of the Moving Picture World:

BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY (Curwood-Carver Production, First National Release)—Screen version of James Oliver Curwood's story, "Wapi, the Killer," starring Nell Shipman—a rattling good melodrama of the Northwest, full of novel scenes and strong sensational effects, excellently acted and containing beautiful scenic features. The picture was filmed in the interior and far part of Alaska and the snow scenes are beautiful. One of the sensations in the making of the picture was to swim down the swift moving waters of dangerous looking rapids. The story is well put together and its incidents are always dramatic. Comedy is furnished by the antics of all sorts of wild and tamed animals. Nell Shipman's impersonation of the heroine gains greatly by the skill and nerve she displays in several physical stunts. The picture is alive with the breath of the open and will interest any one with red blood in his veins.

THE EGG CRATE WALLOP (Paramount-Artcraft)—Besides being a good box office asset through the popularity of the star, Charley Grapewin, this picture provides one of the best prize fight scenes ever put on the screen. The incidents which lead up to this encounter are either delightfully humorous or entertaining revelations of the better side of human nature, and when Jim Kelly, the boy who has taken another man's crime on his shoulders, lanes that celebrated "egg crate wallop" of his on the jaw of his enemy and wins the $2,000 which will save his sweetheart from pain and her father from prison (as he believes) every one will join in the big yell. The story is by Julian Josephson. Jerome Storm directed. A good wholesome picture.

THE THIEF (First National), September 25—The Collins! "The Woman in White" provides a good melodramatic vehicle for Mae Murray, under the careful direction of Leonce Perret, who also is the author of the adaptation. The unhappy story has been artistically staged and carries well the atmosphere of the original. Mae Murray is excellent in a role of double identity. Warner Oland is powerful as the door of evil deeds. J. W. Johnston makes the most of a brief role.

The picture, with its mystery and romance, will please. MCDONALD.

SHARES OF PARIS (Fox)—Madalaine Traverse is the star of this well made film. She is attractive, but it is tense in theme, but is intensely dramatic, and its direction by Howard M. Mitchell follows the spirit of the scenes. The Apache section of Paris is used for some of the action and the local color is always convincing. The story moves between high social life and the slums. Both degrees of life are authoritatively pictured. The plot hinges on the danger to her happiness hanging over the wife of Emile Couillard when she learns that her husband may discover she has an illegitimate son, a youth who is addicted to strong drink. The father of the boy tries to profit by this, and Couillard foils him and helps her reform the boy. Excellently acted. Benison Oliff, author. MOELRAVY.

LORD AND LADY ALGY (Goldwyn)—Taken from the well-known dramatic comedy of the same name, this picture preserves all of its entertaining qualities in picture form, and offers Tom Moore a sympathetic role as the English nobleman who proves to his wife he is a good fellow in spite of appearances being very much against him. His efforts to cover up the wrong doing of another and his passion for the race track almost succeed in separating him from his wife. But Lady Algy is a thoroughbred herself. She bets on a different horse from her husband, offsets his losses and forgives him. The play was written by R. C. Carton, and directed by Harry Beaumont. The cast and general production are of a high class.

HAPRISON.

THE GREAT RADIUS MYSTERY (Universal)—The first installment of this eighteen-episode serial is entitled "The Mystic Stone" and is filled with incidents of a more or less melodramatic sort. It indicates a serial of about average strength. The story begins with a quarrel between two partners who own a great amount of radius. One desires to sell and take profits, and the other would turn the property over to the government. In a right one is shot. The other is made prisoner by foreign agents. Eileen Gedwick, Cleo Madison, Bob Reaves and Edwin J. Brady have the leading roles.

BLIND HUSBANDS (Universal)—An eight-reel Jewel production featuring Eric Von Stroheim. This picture has novelty, beauty of locations and a well-knit story. It was written and directed by the featured player, and most of the scenes are supposed to represent interiors of the Alps. The views of mountain climbing that are thrilling in the extreme and reproductions of the life of a Swiss village and the importance of its inn that have the (over) true color. The story is dramatic and not objectionable, although its subject is the pursuit by an Australian officer of the wife of an American physician. The acting is worthy, and the entire production stands out like a mountain peak.

McELVAIN, IICEU^AVT. --If the remaining chapters of this serial match in interest "The Devil's Trademark," the first of its fifteen episodes, it will be "Going some" before it reaches the grand climax. Aside from excellent melodramatic color, action is the distinguishing feature. Ben Wilson not only plays the leading role that of a master crinologist, but directes as well. Neva Gerber and Howard Crampton are prominent in the supporting cast. MCDONALD.

THE LIFE LINE (Paramount-Artcraft-Maurice Tourneur's screen version of the English melodrama "The Rosary Rye") is on a par with his other picture, "Supporting Life." This work is replete with beautiful examples of screencraft. There are many dramatic situations, and the gypsy atmosphere is cleverly sustained. Sensational wreck scenes, where the passengers are transferred from the ship to the shore in a breeches buoy, are wonderfully realistic. The incidents of the fox hunt and the burning of the theatre are equally impressive. A fine cast headed by Jack Holt and Pauline Starke does justice to the different roles. The stage play is by George R. Sims. WEIZEL.

THE HELION (American-Pathé)--Margaret Fisher is the star of this picture, Princess A. Wanda T. Wende andtiee is played by John L. Fox. If the spectator is willing to throw himself into the stream of many improbable events and does not object to certain unpleasant situations he will find entertainment in "The Helion." The star appears in a double role, that of a cabaret singer who wishes to leave the life, and the insane daughter of a designing couple who substitute the singer for their own child and send their daughter to an asylum. The girl's sweetheart is reported killed in the war and the shock deprives her of her reason. George Graham, the missing soldier, returns and it is to deceived him that the cabaret singer is substituted. The story ends by Graham marrying the singer. McELVAIN.

THE WINNING STROKE (Fox)--A first-rate college story in which the boat race and the rescue from drowning are handled in a most realistic manner. There is plenty of humor in this picture, and the star, George Walsh, puts all the vigor and likable personality into his work which has won him the large following for his previous pictures. The story was written by Edward Bedwig and directed by Edward Dil- lon. There is a bright thread of romance running through the plot. By helping his college win the boat race Suck Simmons, the stove oak, turns the tables on his enemies, who have plotted to ruin him and disgrace the girl he is anxious to make his wife. McELVAIN.

THE BATTLE BREAKER (Universal)--Frank Mayo is the star of this picture, which tells of the lumber camps and shows a thrilling forest fire. It concerns a young man who has made it his business to clear the woods and the villages of the bullies who infest the region. There is one scene where he rides a horse through dangerous rapids that also will thrill. The settings are beautiful throughout and the picture is a splendid outdoor story, vivid and compelling in its action. Mayo is forceful in his acting and is capitaally supported by Katherine Adams as the heroine. The story is by Johnston McCully. Lynn P. Reynolds directed. McELVAIN.

BASE SPAGE (Paramount-Armbuckle)--This is one of the best bur- leesques of stage life ever put into a ten-reel comedy. "Fatty" Arbuc- cle, " Buster" Keaton and the rest of the cast keep the fun moving all the time, and the dance which "Fatty" and "Buster" introduce is a scream. A surefire comedy. WEIZEL.

THE LOTTERY MAN (Paramount-Artcraft)--One of the best comedies ever put on the screen, this picture was written when from Rida Johnson Young's best ideas and directed by Malcolm St. Clair. The situations were made by Elmer Harris, the direction is by James Cruze. The situations are always amusing, the situations satiric and the plot sticks to the unending of the story without any break. The laughs start with the first incident and keep up through the five reels. Everything has been done to help along the fun. Wallace Reid was never more amusing or acted with greater finish. His support is without a flaw, with Winfield Sheen and Harrison Ford; the hero's best friend ranking next to the star. A ripper picture of a picture. MCDONALD. WEIZEL.

The Christie serial--"The Christie Aristocat"--is a grand comedy, absolutely without slap-stick and yet legitimately and generously amusing. The fun comes from the humor of the situations and the all of the subtleties. Clever acting by the entire cast and admirable direction insure the picture a hearty welcome. One of the Christie Superior comedies and a credit to the brand. WEIZEL.
THE ST [[JU]N] SITIATION

The situation in the publishing business in New York City is unchanged—in any event it hardly can be said at the time of this writing, October 15, that it has altered for the better. The pressmen and printers continue their membership in Unions No. 51 and 23. As the charters of these organizations have been revoked by their immediate national unions, the employing printers, continuing their policy of dealing only with men in good standing their international heads, stand pat on their lockout of the members of the dissolved locals.

The members of Typographical Unions No. 5 who collectively walked out of their situation, declaring their action was as individuals, are still out. The settlement of the difficulty has not been advanced by the action of the Central Federation in declaring its membership with the members of Nos. 51 and 23 and tendering them moral support.

The international printing chiefs have asked the American Federation of Labor to compel the central body to dissolve its declaration on pain of further curtailing of charters.

The employing printers are still willing to submit to arbitration the claims of the compositors. The latter, at their meeting last Sunday, insist they will not arbitrate the forty-hour week. As will be seen, however, the settlement of the dispute between the employing printers and their compositors will bring no relief to the publishers. There will still remain the feud between the local and international organizations of printers and compositors.

It is possible the situation may be cleared up overnight. It is probable the end of this deplorable condition of affairs is some distance away.

PETTIIJOHN JOINS L. J. SFLZNICK.—C. C. Pettijohn, who lately disposed of his interests in Exhibitors-Mutual, has been engaged by L. J. Selznick as his personal representative. Mr. Pettijohn's title will be assistant to the president. In his growing interests Mr. Selznick declares he has found it increasingly necessary to have an assistant who can share with him the details of the activities that fall to Mr. Selznick. and in selecting Mr. Pettijohn the decision has been based upon the special fitness of that well known organizer for the position.

The Lynch interests have unleashed five trained New York newspaper men on the state and page ads and yards of news column space are appearing in the border county papers. Hulasay has acquired a half interest in the Erie Theatre, H:4; Oka., and is building a $50,000 house at McAlester, Texas. The Lynch concern intends to open the Strand, Dallas, and the Star, Denton, in 1921, estimated that up to date the Lynch and Hulasay factions have each spent $350,000 for theatre control, while building operations call for the expenditure of more than $4,250,000 each.

Mr. Lesser will sell the new Essanay picture, rights basis, distributing in some territories through his own exchanges.

By a process of "turning in" accounts starting at 22 a day and then going on up to $10, $15 and finally $20 a day were stolen by the trio until they really could not say exactly how much they had taken. The girl cashier reveled in fine clothes and rich jewels but made the mistake of jilting her sweetheart of other days for a chap who "owed her fast" and took her on "joy rides." The lad who was jilted "gets sunk" by going to Manager Neuman with his suspicions and detectives did the rest.

The election will be held at the convention, and according to present plans the sessions will be held in the Dyceman Hotel.

Mr. Von Herberg has declined to make an announcement at this time.

Rolfe production now being produced for presentation through A. H. Fischer Features, Inc. She has had some screen experience, but "The Red Virgin" gives her her first big screen part.

VICTORY FOR BOONE EXHIBITORS.—Judge Thompson, of Webster City, has rendered a decision that the ordinances of the city of Boone, Iowa, regulating picture theatres, do not prohibit Sunday shows. The case was brought by Boone theatre managers, who were arrested and fined a month ago for Sunday opening and appealed. It is probable that a special session of the legislature this winter will repeal the "blue laws."

CAPTAIN MORISSON WITH REALART.—Captain Joseph Morisson, of 542 West 124th street, New York, who closely resembles Marshal Pooch in playing with Miss Alice Brady in a new feature to be released under the Realart banner. SORIERO PAYING BETS.—Thomas D. Soriero, general manager of the Strand Theatre, Lowell, Mass., is busy paying bets. Tom bet everything from a box of cigars to a hoghead of New England cider that an expected newcomer to his family would be a second Nazimova. Now he is reconciling himself to being the father of a theatre manager or a second Julian Eltinge. REVIEWS OF CURRENT PRODUCTIONS:

A DAMSEL IN DISTRESS (Pathé) -- An Albert Capellani production, based on a story by P. G. Wodehouse, with June Caprice, Creighton Hale, W. H. Thompson and a fine supporting cast. This has the blithe, humorous qualities which characterize the Wodehouse stories. The scenes are laid on a big estate on the Hudson River and in New York City. The heroine, a round-eyed, ingenuous "flapper," keeps her family wild over her romantic love affairs, but finally determines to marry a young man who proves agreeable all around. The production has an admirable light-touch and is altogether pleasing. McELRAVY.

DEATH TRAP (Universal) -- Oct. 20. -- Episode No. 2 of "Mutt and Jeff" Radium Murders. Further in the adventures of Gloria and Bob. Gloria's dog does some clever work in releasing her hands from an imprisoning rope. The burning cabin and Cleo Rand's work in releasing the flood makes a strong closing feature. McELRAVY.

RIDER OF THE LAW (Universal) -- A six-reel production featuring Harry Carey, supported by a pleasing cast of characters. The scenes are laid in a mining town and the hero is a member of the Texas Rangers. He is himself suspected of being a member of a band of robbers, but clears his name by bringing in the real criminals, one of whom is his foster brother. The strong points of the story are its human character touches and occasional strong dramatic moments. It is a trifle slow in movement at times, but the story is a well-rounded one and calculated to please the Harry Carey fans. McELRAVY.

THE CHAMBERMAID'S REVENGE (Fox) -- October. -- A typical Sutt and Jeff cartoon, in which Mutt plays hotel bell-hop, and Jeff alternates in various roles as bell-hop, porter and maid. The knockabout stunts are full of laughs. McELRAVY.

GUMDROPS AND OVERALLS (World) -- This is a Judge Brown one reel comedy and it tells how a young girl helped a country boy save his father's store from being driven into bankruptcy by a smart city chap who opens a rival establishment. Ruth Hampton acts the heroine. It is a simple little comedy and not overly well acted, but will please by its laughter of happenings. WEITZEL.

SATURDAY (Paramount-Briggs) -- The humor of this one-reel comedy will strike home. Every boy from nine to seventy will recognize its truth and chuckle over the way "Skinney" puts in his Saturday scrubbing the steps and his adventures at the old swimming hole. Although there is little or no attempt to build up a plot in this comedy it is the best of the lot inspired by the Briggs cartoons. "Skinney's" endeavors to escape his Saturday bath bring the picture to a funny finish. WEITZEL.

WHY DIVORCE? (Capitol-Goldwyn) -- Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven comprise nearly the entire cast in this one-reeler. Two clever little tots help out the fun. The story is the familiar one of the young couple who quarrel and divide their home in the center, each member of the family agreeing to stay on his or her side of the line. There is a fair amount of fun in the situations invented by the director and the comedy is always in good taste. This De Haven act which is new and their method is free from any suggestion of coarseness. WEITZEL.

ALMOST A HUSBAND (Goldwyn) -- Will Rogers and a fine company in a good humorous story from Ople Reed. An awkward country schoolmaster, who is writing novels and studying law to help along, attends an evening game of forfeits and is married "for fun" to the banker's daughter. It transpires that the marriage is legal. The girl will not have it dissolved because it protects her from a villainous suitor. This suitor attempts to ruin the bank and has the schoolmaster whipped by night riders, but the schoolmaster comes back with an amusing rescue of the bank, turns the tables on the villain and wins the girl in dead earnest.

HARRISON.

COMPANY (Paramount-Briggs) -- One of the series picturing the Briggs' Tribune cartoons "When A Feller Needs A Friend." A realistic presentation of old-fashioned American country life. A sketch rather than a story, amusingly true to the phase of domestic life it depicts, a amusing and clean skit of two reels, good as a relief, a serious features. HARRISON.

THE PHANTOM HONEYMOON (Hallmark) -- A. J. Searle Dawley production which will win its laurels on the sensational character of its plot. The picture takes the form of a highly spectacular ghost story which "shows its central figures honeymooning in ghostland, after the material life has been ended for both through the bite of a snake. The serpent has been used on the basis of a duel by the bridegroom and his rival in love. The picture has excellent box office values. HARRISON.

SACRED SILENCE (Fox) -- A gripping and powerful dramatic subject, in six reels, introducing William Russel in his new connection with (over) the Fox company. He is surrounded by a cast of exceptional ability, which gives the production an admirable balance and effectiveness.

Under the general supervision of Julian Scott and Anne Ayres, are strong in the feminine parts. The story is one of a faithless wife of a major at an army post, whose flirtations bring temporary dishonor to many others and eventually death to herself. Strong drama with a tragic climax, followed by lighter love scenes.

POOR RELATIONS (Brentwood-Robertson-Cole)—Here is a picture that will offend nobody and please a majority of picture devotees. It carries a simple story, told directly and devoid of all clumsiness or defect. It is an interesting theme, the same light material and plot enough to hold general attention. Picture showmen need not expect any of the "thrills" or "trucks" that sensation-lovers delight in, but there will be none among their patrons who will find the least objection to the tranquility of their treatment. "Poor Relations" was written and directed by King W. Vidor and produced by Brentwood for Robertson-Cole to distribute. Florence Vidor and Zazu Pitts are the female leads, Miss Vidor having a straight dramatic role while Miss Pitts devotes herself to comic. William Du Vaill Roscoe Karnes and Charles Rhodas are the principals. HILL DEW-DROP INN (Simon-Vitaphone)—A rattling good farce of the slapstick variety, replete with those wild exaggerations of character and action which mean the hardest kind of acrobatic work for the actors to keep the laugh going from start to finish. Ingenious in many places.

THE FALSE CODE (Keenan-Patene)—In the fourth of his independent productions, "The False Code," Frank Keenan is seen in the line of work he does best. As John Benten, a ship-builder who is made the victim of an insurance swindle and sent to prison by his business associate, the star of the Frank Keenan productions is enabled to bring his strongly developed gift for forceful character delineation into full play. The incidents of the story are abroad with the times and of real interest and, as handled by the scenario writer, constitute a well sustained melodrama. Some of the situations connected with the Deings of Chicago Ed are a trifle hard to accept without hesitation, but there is never any slacking up of the interest and the scenes after Benten is released from jail and comes back to square accounts with his enemies are finely dramatic. The production is excellent from every angle. Ernest G. Warde has directed the picture with his accustomed thoroughness, and the supporting company is equal to all demands. Wyles Matheny as Harry Vance, Joseph J. Bowling as Daniel Gray, Edward J. Brady as Chicago Ed, and Jean Calhoun as Anne Benten are the prominent members of the cast, following the star. WEITZEL.

WHEN BEARCAT WENT DRY (World-Macaulay)—A six-part adaptation of the Charles Neville Buck novel of the same name. It treats of the life in the Kentucky Cumberlands among the lawless men who lacerated the people under the influence of the "white liker" from illicit stills. The production is replete with the atmosphere of the southern mountains, and presents interesting types of the men who inhabit them, impersonated by a competent cast headed by Bernard Durning, who plays the role. The prohibition angle of the picture is strong enough to satisfy those who desire to use it for propaganda purposes, but the big feature of the picture is the struggle between men of good and evil passions, and the love story of Bearcat Stacey. The production will appeal to the average audience.

MACDONALD.

THE TREMBLING HOUR (Universal)—A six-reel melodramatic mystery story, written by Kenneth Clark and produced by George Seigman. Kenneth Harlan plays the role of hero, a young man who has served prison sentences and afterward wiped out the blot by army service. He later suspected of theft and murder, but comes through with a clear name. This subject is developed in a leisurely manner and does not contain much suspense until the murder is reached. This brings an interesting climax and the mystery is solved in an unexpected way. As a whole the story is entertaining, though not powerful. It makes a production above average strength.

McELRAVY.

START SOUTHWIND (Pathe)—A one-reel comic, produced by Hal E. Roach. This features Harry Pollard, who has been playing in the Harold Lloyd comedies. This cops a problem with the assistance of a knockabout sort. There is not much to this, but out the production is quite amusing.

McELRAVY.

THE PURPLE DAGGER (Hallmark)—The second episode of "The Trail of the Octopus" rivals the first in the quality of its thrills. The opening of the episode shows Carter Holmes rescuing Beth Stanmore in the Temple of the Devil Choristers. After an apparently successful struggle with members of the Sacred Twelve, they find themselves pre—opital to the cellar of the building. After grapping about in an effort to elude Monsieur X, who is discovered to be following them in the underground passages in which they are imprisoned, they finally see the light of day. A search for the last of the daggers marked with the Devil's trade mark takes them over a dangerous pass to a cave, where they are about to be blown to pieces.

MacDONALD.

THE BLACK CIRCLE (World)-- In this five-part production from a story by Raymond C. Hill a gang of whiskey smugglers make an unsuccessful attempt to elude the newly appointed sheriff who himself had been a convict, imprisoned unjustly for forcibly extracting from a bank money which belonged to him. The star performer of the story is a young reporter (played by Creighton Hale) who gets entangled in the meshes of the Black Circle gang in trying to get evidence against their picture with that of the ordinary, but has given them his fingerprints.

Virginia Valli plays the leading role, incidentally. MacDONALD.

KITTY KELLY, U. D. (Robertson-Cole)-- A well-made comedy drama featuring Bessie Barriscale, with Jack Holt in the masculine lead. The production is a good example of the effective screening of a simple story. MacDOWALD.

HER GAME (United Picture Theatres)-- Five part Tribune production starring Florence Reed and directed by Frank H. Craven, this picture is another one of twin brothers which look so much alike that the wife of one of the twins cannot detect any difference between them. The heroine's father has been ruined by one of the twins, and the girl, a Raymond of Virginia, goes to New York to get even with him. Much of the story is told in one of the longest letters ever written. The heroine marries the good twin and the bad twin proceeds to make life exciting for the couple. There are two attempts at suicide during the action, and the leisurely tale is accented by a certain class of picture patrons. Florence Reed acts with her accustomed skill and has the support of such finished performers as Conway Tearle, Jed Prouty, Florence Billings, and Matilda Brundage. "Her Game" is not up to the standard of the former Florence Reed releases. WEITZEL.

W. Broadhurst stage comedy and directed by Donald Crisp, there is many a laugh in this five-part picture. Eddy Kenton, the star, has one of the parts he plays, which gains in humor support includes Lois Wilson, Maym Kelso, Winter Hall, Walter Hiers, Margaret Loomis, and Carrie Clark Ward. The story is all about a bashful young chap who is forbidden to make love to the one girl he wants for his wife.

GRAY TOWERS MYSTERY (Vitagraph)-- Gladys Leslie is the star of this five-part picture. The story tells of an orphan girl who is left without funds at the death of her parents but who inherits a rich estate from her uncle. The plot has considerable dramatic interest, and the picture will compare favorably with other Gladys Leslie releases.
WEITZEL.

THE OPEN DOOR (Artclads)-- A Robertson-Cole production in six parts. Released through Exhibitor Mutual. The care with which this picture has been produced and the efforts that have been made to get away from the conventional are its chief merits. Unfortunately the story lacks a firm foundation of plausible action. In an attempt to prejudicially abolish subtilities the action is made to drag by too fre-frequent and too prolonged a use of close-ups. Some of the incidents are far fetched, and the finish shows the futility of the "heroic sacrifice" of the leading character. The story was written by Garfield Thompson, and directed by Dallas M. Fitzgerald. John P. Wade, Sam J.
Hyan, Bob Broderick, Frank Evans and Anna Lehr are the prominent members of an excellent cast. The camera work is artistic. Many spectaculars will overlook the weak points of the story and probably will and see only the novelty of handling and the dramatic suggestion of the plot.
WEITZEL.

IN MIZZOURA (Paramount-Artcraft)-- Presenting Robert Warwick in a screen version of the play by Augustus Thomas. The story is full of human interest and well drawn character. Robert Warwick and the supporting company give convincing portrayals of their several roles.
WEITZEL.

This issue of the Bulletin, the third, marks the fourth week of the suspension of the Moving Picture World. In a circular now going out to World subscribers there are set forth the reasons for the non-appearance of the World. In the concluding paragraph of that statement, written twenty-four hours previously, the conviction is expressed that the period of the shut-down will be brief. Subsequent events have confirmed this.

The proceeding week has been marked by a change of front on the part of those publishers who took the stand that the most effective means of combating radicalism in trades unions was in suspension of publication. They have come to the conclusion that the present is the psychological time to resume.

With this view the publishers of the Moving Picture World are in hearty accord. And they realize to the full the mechanical difficulties that lie ahead.

The attitude of the World toward trades unionism is unchanged. We believe in collective bargaining, in bargaining with a body responsive to the authority of its own constituted chiefs. To believe in arbitration, before arbitrators that honestly will hear and determine the issues submitted to them. We are opposed to that kind of unionism that seeks to impose its demands with a bludgeon—and we are firm in the conviction that the great majority of the rank and file of the people employed in the printing trades in New York City also are opposed to it.

At 3 p.m. that day Spurr announced to open the lyric and were arrested immediately. Meanwhile the 8,000 persons waiting to see the pictures developed no tendencies and started a riot. SHOULD A HUSBAND FORGIVE? (Fox).—A six-reel production, built along familiar melodramatic lines, with prize fighting and horse racing as prominent features. This carries also a problem theme, which brings the story together with an additional interest, the question being whether a wife with a past should trust her husband with the knowledge or strive to hide it. In the case of the hero's sticky disaster resulted from love, but in his own love affair the girl tells him everything and they find their way to happiness. Miriam Cooper heads a well-balanced cast of players. The melodramatic episodes are splendidly staged, and the production, while not strong in suspense, is one that will make many friends because of its big moments and strong sporting flavor.

THE TRAIL OF THE OCTOPUS (Hallmark).—Episodes 3, 4, 5 and 6 of "The Trail of the Octopus" back up the original supposition that it was to be one of the best serials on the market. The titles of these episodes are "Face to Face", "The Hand of Danger", "The Eye of Satan" and "Behind the Mask". These episodes lead the spectator through a series of exciting incidents from the time when Ruth Stahnpe and Carter Holmes have their remarkable escape from death of the servant of Holmes, the death of another of the scientists, the meeting of Monsieur X and Holmes, the kidnapping of Ruth, incidents in the store of Hop Lee, and other happenings which increase the mystery surrounding Monsieur X.

THE MURDER MUG (Vitagraph).—Alice Joyce is featured in this well-directed, beautifully photographed production. No pains seem to have been spared in making the picture an artistic success. Apart from the dramatic values of the production it is rich in beautiful locations, natural and pleasing incident and interesting characterization. Alice Joyce plays the title role with convincing ease, and is supported by a competent cast, including Percy Warren in the leading male role. The production is based on a story by Charles Stoker Hay and is directed by H. Edward — Viola MacDonald.

PLEASE GET MARRIED (Metro).—Viola Dana is the star of this seven-reel comedy built on the stage farce of the same name. A young couple start off on their honeymoon under the belief that they have been properly married. When they arrive at the hotel the clerk shows them a telegram stating the marriage ceremony is not legal. They take it for a joke played by one of their friends, and are prevented from retiring by further interruptions of the same nature. The picture is smart, lively, with no offensiveness for the healthy minded person. It is cleverly acted by the entire cast and excellently produced under the direction of John E. Ince.

FAIR AND WARMER (Metro).—Another stage success, this seven-part picture starring May Allison is also of the smart sort, but the skill of the acting and the cleverness with which the story had been put together will make it acceptable to the majority of screen patrons. The wife of a young chap who likes to go out nights and place himself around with other women, is running around with other men. This husband of a handsomely matron on the floor below becomes jealous of his wife, who is fond of going to the theatre with a male friend. The deserted wife and the jealous husband agree to make their life partners believe that the two are lovers. The two run away too, have consciences and each other. When the absent ones do return they find their better-halfs in the same apartment and both overcome by cocktails, of whose knock-out qualities they are entirely ignorant. This police force is in the hands of an amusing, cleverly acted role, and this is strongly enforced by the good judgment of the star, supporting cast and director. Not a picture for a Sunday school program, but good entertainment for the liberal minded. The production is high class throughout.

CROOKED STRAIGHT (Paramount-Astor).—Another Julian Josephson story for Charles Ray, this five-part picture is one of the best produced and best acted of the screen action stories. It is a tall order for any screen to develop, and the production holds one to the very end of the picture, when the beautiful solution is made. Gold and hunger make him a criminal, but he determines to reform and fully redeems himself in the end of the story he loves. Part of the action is strongly melodramatic and there is always something of interest happening. The plot has the quick light and shade that have come to be a feature of the Ray releases, and the star has never done finer acting in any of his pictures. The plot is not without its weak points, but the Ray personality and his amazing earnestness compensate for any lapses of logic. Margery Wilson can the role of the heroine.

A YELLOW DOG CATCHER (Fox). -- One of the fastest moving and funniest Sunshine comedies produced by Fox, this one-reeler has a lot of original business for the two actors in the far-legged act. The collection of dogs and a trained goat that butts in for good measure keep the regular actors of the cast on the jump and land many laughs.

HUMAN DESIRE (First National). -- Written by Violet Irwin and directed by Wilfred North, this five-part picture has Anita Stewart for the star. It is the story of a convent reared Italian girl who is born with a great love for neglected babies. She comes to America, is used and married by a man who has loved her, is finally married, but lives unhappily with his wife. The model's innocence leads her into serious danger, but she marries the painter after his wife is killed in an accident. The story is not above the ordinary, but it will please women and children. It has the benefit of the star's appealing fitness for such a part and the help of good direction and a well-chosen supporting cast.

CRIMSON SHOALS (Monopol). -- "Crimson Shoals," a melodramatic production starring Frances Ford and produced by the Monopol Pictures for right release, is a novelty picture. Triple exposure has been introduced into this feature and this alone should serve to put it over. Many will marvel when they see the star appear as the grandfather, father, and son in one scene and converse one with another.

The story is about an uncharted island in the Pacific which is rich in mineral. Some of the produce of the island is continually being missed by the natives who are engaged in a spectacular free-for-all fight between several thieves and the hero and his assistants. Has Frances Ford, who does creditable work in the picture, made his make-up more diversified, it would have been much easier for the spectator to follow the characters. This production will go in most houses where the audiences are not overcritical.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN LEARNS (Paragon-Artcraft). -- Enid Bennett is very effective in this touching story of a neglected husband's attempt at malignant vengeance on a supposed rival. The husband has been thrown into the office of his supposed rival and retaliates with fiendish ingenuity. He sends a phone call for help, supposedly the butler speaking, and lures the rival to the house, even to his wife's bedroom, where he shoots him down in cold blood. By way of vengeance on his wife, he calls up a daily paper and gives the news that he has shot a man found in his wife's bedroom. In an insane moment the butler that is fatal, but the supposed rival recovers and she is acquitted.

ALL AT SEA (Pathé). -- A lively force comedy of incident grouped around the antics of Harry Pollari. In the guise of a sailor he is braving his expatriates to some shapely bathing girls, when they are carried off by pirates. Considerable mechanical ingenuity is shown as well as some shapely forms of the bathers. HARRISON.

BRIGHT ROOM (RKO-Radio). -- An Exile mystery feature produced by Mayflower and derived from a widely-read mystery novel by Gaston Leroux. This interesting detective story has an unexpected ending. It is visualized capably. The mystery relates to a murder attack on a girl in the Yellow Room. Her cries call her father to the only door locked on her side. When he finally breaks in and finds her nearly dead her assailant has escaped, though the only window is heavily barred and there are no exits. A good attraction and calculated to hold the spectator's attention closely.

HARRISON.

-making good with mother (Laurence Grossmith). -- A short and amusing comedy of the Greamith type, with the lead in the role of a stupid, good-natured and wealthy young man on a week-end visit to the family of his fiancée. He is popular in spite of his absent-mindedness and misshap, but he gets into a predicament by retiring early in the long bedroom, that of a young woman who is supposed to have neglected her ideal of life in a scene and stage coxcomb. HARRISON.

built by the bullsheviks (Pitt and Efi). -- There is every evidence that no expense has been spared in the making of the four-part burlesque "Bullin' the Bullshevik." Frank P. Donovan has written and directed the production; and while he has made a commendable effort to convert his theme into an amusing burlesque he occasionally fails to arrive at the intended comedy. Marguerite Clayton is the faithful member of the cast. She appears on the scene in a fine show of Killeenoff wearing a nude smile that hiding a ferocious determination to steal from Trotsky certain important papers. The average audience would find their beingings in this production highly amusing.

MACDONALD.

PROTEL FARMING (Fox). -- A Burt and Jeff Animated, depicting one of Bud Fisher's "cinnical ideas." The two false pretzel bushes, which are irrigated with 2.75 per cent of water and produce enormous crops, is very funny.
BULLETIN SERVICE MOVING PICTURE WORLD—NOVEMBER 1, 1916.

THE ARIZONA CAT CLAW (World).—A five-reel western story of the cattle country, featuring Edythe Sterling, Leo Maloney, William Quinn, and others. Cattle stealing is one feature of the production, which is not very strong in continuity, but contains some entertaining melodramatic scenes. Some trial-bar construction and its chief strength is found in various entertaining stunts and some unusually good scenic effects. A touch of heart interest is woven into the number by the betrayal of a girl named Amelia Young by a mining engineer. The latter is forced to marry the girl at the point of a gun. The production as a whole is one of average strength.

THE WOLF PACK (Pathes).—October 19—Episode No. 12 of "The Great Gamble." This shows more of Nell's adventures in passing herself off as Aline and then pictures the trials of Aline and Ralph.

MoELRavy.

THE HEART OF THE JUNGLE (Paul J. Rainey).—For real thrills this one-reel picture of big game hunting in Africa beats the best melodrama. A lion hunt with the king of beasts shot within twelve feet of the camera is the final stunt.

TeITZEL.

THE BROKEN BUTTERFLY (Robertson-Cole).—A Maurice Tournier production featuring Lew Cody with Pauline Stark in the feminine lead. The picture is excessively beautiful as regards settings, photography, and the individual work of some members of the cast, including Pauline Stark and Mary Alden. Lew Cody is not well suited to the role of the composer in love with the simple country girl. The character is a poorly balanced one and is therefore a thankless one to play.

MoELRavy.

THE MOONSHINE TRAIL (Pathes).—A six-part production by J. Stuart Blackton and Stanley Omsated. Sylvia Bremer and Robert Gordon head a large cast, many of whom play interesting character roles. The story deals throughout with the havoc wrought by strong drink on the human family. The first pictures are taken in the Kentucky mountains, showing the destruction of a still and the death of the father and the two sons. A second son and daughter of the still-owner then come to New York, and drink plays a strong part in the latter's love affair. The production as a whole abounds in powerful scenes of a compelling, though frequently unpleasant nature, softened by the influence of love and occasional touches of real humor. It grips the interest well and has a certain timeliness that is not to be overlooked.

MoELRavy.

THE STREAM OF LIFE (Plymouth).—"The Stream of Life" is a religious conception, carefully thought out and well made. It has a powerful appeal for the average spectator, for the reason that its play is principally on the emotional side. It tells the story of a man from his childhood to his death, showing him first in the simple country life under the influence of an ideal mother. When he reaches the age of manhood he longs to better himself, and begs to be allowed to go to New York. After he becomes a successful business man with a wife and child. The mother, left alone on the farm, and the death of her husband, comes to visit them. During the period of the visit the son's child dies. Through this incident both the son, who has long been estranged from the church, and also his wife, renounce the gay life to which they have been accustomed and spend the remainder of their lives in trying to make others happy.
